I would like to give an opinion no the Microsoft case.
Microsoft is a powerful, innovative company. The sould be congratulated on their success, not punished.
In the United States, if we allow people to be creative and innovative then our society will be a better place. By restricting and punishing people for being excellent at what they do, people will be less inclined to take risks and improve our lives.
Microsoft's success is at the heart of a capitalistic society. They must continue to innovate and produce new products or else they will fail as a business.
They should not be punished for being successful.
